

Bible Games for Families to Review at Home

1. Bible Matching Game - A matching game is a fun way to learn the names of the Apostles, Ten Commandments and more. Use index cards for a quick game on the go. Make pairs of index cards with the people, places and lessons from the Bible and spread them out. Turn them over, give them a good shuffle and flip them over one at a time and try to find the match!
2. Bowl of Charades - This is a fun and easy game for a large or small group. Put a list of biblical people, places, and things in a bowl. One person at a time draws a card from the bowl and acts it out until someone offers the right answer.
3. Bible Bingo - Make Bingo cards with the answers to questions about biblical characters, a story or verse. Kids can fill their spaces when they find the right answer on the card. The first person to make a line going up, down or diagonal is the winner. Keep prizes on hand and several different Bingo cards to keep the fun going. For Example, https://wordmint.com/public\_puzzles/37109

Name: _____ Date: _____

Book of Luke Lessons 20-31

hugged	mercy	loyal	donkey	penalty murder	message	criminals	nonsense	wasted soldiers	important	FREE	bleeding	suffereing represents	dishonest	peace	grieving	against promised	witnesses	agreement	humble	sword

riot

demanded

cross

insults

wondering

ghost

doubt

gathered

trusted

sores

comforted

follower

afraid

remember

knelt

arrested

criminal

4. Six Degrees of Separation - Pick two biblical characters and see if you can connect them using six or fewer people, relatives, or connections.
5. Hopscotch - Line up the books of the Bible in order and create an epic hopscotch game. As kids run through the board, have them repeat the names they land on to help with memorization. You can also do characters or the stories especially the book of Luke has great stories.

6. Scavenger Hunt - You know the game. Make the Bible come alive with clues that lead your little players around the house and on an outside adventure — like leading them to an olive tree by asking “What did the dove bring back to Noah’s ark?” — until they find a prize.
7. Sidewalk Chalk - Sidewalk chalk is one of the best inventions ever and very versatile in helping kids learn more about the Bible. Read a story from the Bible then illustrate it on the driveway or sidewalk with chalk. Draw one every couple of days and watch the outside grow more colorful with each Bible lesson.
8. Crossword Puzzles - Perfect as a transition or rainy-day activity, make your own Bible-themed crossword puzzle with clues or use an online guide to create one for you. For a fun twist, ask the kids to make a puzzle for you to figure out.
9. Word Search - This is a great activity to use after a lesson to help kids remember what they learned. Using keywords and phrases, create a word search. You can give participants a list of words to search or make it a little tougher and let them see if they can find the words without a list.
10. 20 Questions - How well do you know your biblical people, places, and things? This is a fun way to find out. Everyone gets a turn picking a person, place or thing and must answer up to 20 questions to see if players can figure it out. You can use only yes or no questions or allow for more in-depth questions. If 20 questions are too easy, reduce it to 15 and see how they do.